un'common

Marble has been appreciated by architects, designers and artists for centuries.

When we look at marble, we see at least 2 stories
– the one created by man, who extracted and processed the stone, making it functional; and the other one – completely unknown, which for hundreds or thousands of years has led to the creation of this extraordinary material.

Discover this hidden storyline with Un'common.

About us

Un'common is a Polish furniture brand founded by Gosia Korycka and Maciek Korycki in 2016. We design and make furniture from the finest components such as marble, brass and wood. Although we use cutting edge technology in the design stage, our products are hand made applying traditional methods which enhance the timeless beauty hidden in natural materials. Every day we carefully observe the world wanting to enrich it with beautiful, functional and timeless objects.

We design furniture and accessories collections so you can create space that is comfortable for you.

Welcome to Un'common world.

What is the story of Un'common?

We are Gosia Korycka and Maciek Korycki, we are partners both in life and in business. We established our company in Lodz, Poland in 2016. Since then we design and make our furniture from the finest components such as marble, brass, steel, natural oak veneer and wool. Although we use cutting edge technology in the design stage, each of our products is hand-made applying traditional methods which enhance timeless beauty hidden in marble. We follow in Charles Eame's motto discovering „the uncommon beauty lies in common objects”.

What does your designing process look like?

Our short collections are well thought through and harmonious and can be inspired by some texture, material or technological process. Once we have an idea we discuss all the elements of the collection focusing on each detail and move on to sketching and building 3d models. Making a prototype is the exciting final stage of a long designing process.

How and where do you draw your inspiration for new products or collection from?

We draw inspiration from our surroundings and living environment. (Surprisingly It seems that our hometown is a perfect place but you can come up with an (brilliant) idea on holidays or relaxing on the beach with your eyes closed too) It seems that our hometown is a perfect place. Sometimes you can come up with an idea on holidays or relaxing on the beach with your eyes closed. It is important to stay open-minded to new feelings and bright, innovative, fresh ideas that come to us every day. It is always very helpful to note and draw spontaneous ideas otherwise they may fleet quickly.

Who designs Un'common collections?

Gosia: I'm a designer and Creative Director in our brand. In the past I worked as an architect for a big architectural studio but working there I realised that designing my own furniture is my dream. Maciek also has a great influence on the designing process and he supports each step of creating our furniture.

What is your favourite material to create furniture?

Definitely marble. Natural and noble materials have been valued in architecture for centuries. Marble was already used in ancient times. It is really beautiful, fascinating and extremely versatile material that has amazing processing potential. It is also extremely durable. A coffee table with a marble top is a piece of furniture for generations. It is really fascinating to see everyday objects become quiet and beautiful companions in our everyday life.

RAAG Kilim is a beautiful and unique interior decoration, it is like a woolen painting. It can hang on the wall, but if you want to put it on the floor, it will also work great there! It was created in cooperation with our friends from Tartaruga Studio. Made of wool, woven by hand on almost 100 years old loom. The pattern will be produced in limited copies, each with a serial number.
